Stuart Wilson: BBC 1 9.25

TONIGHT'S CHOICE

Rosalie Horner

★ RUNNING BLIND
B.B.C.1, 9.25 p.m.

STUART WILSON, who made a suitably smouldering Count Vronsky in the B.B.C. production of "Anna Karenina," surfaces as former British agent Alan Stewart blackmailed into doing one final job for his ex-boss, the corrupt and conniving Slade (George Sewell), to deliver a mysterious package. In the B.B.C.'s generous desire to give us two shows in one—thriller serial and travelogue—it has been set in Iceland and Alan has Elin (Heida Steindorsdottir), a suitably melting Icelandic lady, close at hand.

★ FATHER DEAR FATHER
ITV, 6.30 p.m.

FINALLY Patrick Glover's (Patrick Cargill) new book suddenly looks a much better proposition, thanks to his devoted nieces tireless, not to say tiresome, efforts.

Don't be put off by the fact that you are going to have to read the dialogue. This subtitled French comedy about shifting amorous relationships in a middle-class family is a sophisticated, gentle pleasure. Written and directed by Jean-Charles Taccella, it features Marie-Christine Barrault and Victor Lanoux. Watch it. Ian Christie.

TONIGHT'S CHOICE

Rosalie Horner

THE MUPPET SHOW

ITV, 7.0 p.m.

I SUPPOSE we shall never know what small-screen sex goddess Miss Piggy really thinks of tonight's guest, Liberace. The man who has transformed the sequin into a dazzling art form and piano playing into an artless sequence pounds—and I use the term financially—out "Chopsticks" "Misty," Chopin's Nocturne in F and "Five Foot Two."
